Jura...

The name itself implies character, mystery – and indeed, visitors discover not one but several Juras, each one more breathtaking than the last. From the poetic ponds of Bresse to the snowy peaks of the Dôle, Jura’s wonder unfurl like Russian dolls: the magic of the Chaux forest, Vignoble’s good living, the gentle pace of the lake district and the “Low Mountains”, the sumptuous Haut-Jura... Every step of the way, you will rave about another landscape, another spread of colour, another playground... And just when you think you have seen it all, the best is yet to be discovered: and it is all so unexpected!

Dole

The town of liberty of the Franche-Comté inhabitants

Take a town with a strong personality - and if possible enjoying the status of a 'Ville d'Art et d'Histoire'. Sprinkle it with some prestigious buildings and top that with a magnificent Baroque collegiate church. Then put an expanse of water under it and one of the most beautiful forests in France to the side of it and there you have it - welcome to Dole.

unexpected

Louis Pasteur was born here and Marcel Aymé spent part of his childhood in Dole: these two famous sons of the town are just one reason to come and visit the former capital of Franche-Comté. Dole is a green city and there's nothing better than strolling along the River Doubs or the Tanneurs Canal which used to be home to people working like bees... After that, take in Old Dole and pay a visit to the Hôtel-Dieu (the old General Hospital) or the Gothic basilica: from the top of the bell tower you can see miles and miles of outstanding scenery. Let's not forget the Eurobicycleroute, the Rhine-Rhone Canal and the mysterious Chaux Forest!

Find out more... www.tourisme-paysdedole.fr

Surrounded by the Tanneurs canal, the River Doubs and the Rhine- Rhône canal, Dole is often referred to as 'the little Venice of the Jura'. You can explore it, along the water's edge, by bicycle on the Euroveloroute which links Nantes with Budapest via the Dole area or by boat, departing from the river port.

Lons-le-Saunier

Town Centre...or Greenery?

Can the Capital of Jura avoid taking itself seriously? This town of paradoxes used to be the home of the Princes of Orange keeps a keen eye on its proud heritage while also providing a superb setting for taking it easy and pampering yourself... Just follow the guide!

This delightful town benefits from a fine location (on side there is the River Bresse and on the other mountains) and is the main town in Jura with a many centuries of trading and tourism behind it. In addition to being a charming thoroughfare (place de la Liberté, “street of arcades” ...), Lons-le-Saunier is a centre of wellness: relaxation guaranteed in the Lédonia thermal bath, diving into the Aqua’rel water fun centre or taking in the amazing Maison de La vache qui rit® (Laughing Cow Centre) ?... As you can see, Lons-le-Saunier is an entertaining place not short of imagination!

Find out more... www.ot-lons-le-saunier.com

Not every town can count amongst its children, the most famous French citizen in Rouget de Lisle, a giant in the exploration field in Paul-Emile Victor, and an author whose books are essential reading, in Bernard Clavel.

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Salins-les-Bains

Between two forts

Take an outstanding natural site- the bottom of a large steephead valley. Keep it guarded by two old forts, add a Petite Cité Comtoise de Caractère (Small Comté City Full of Character), a spa resort renowned for the benefit of its naturally salty water and a monument included on the UNESCO World Heritage list: welcome to Salins-les-Bains.

Dou're bound to fall in love with Mont Poupet when viewing it from Fort Saint-André and the banks of the River Furieuse. But you need to go the very heart of the Grande Saline (UNESCO) to really appreciate this town's rich history as the saltworks were the focal point of the town and salt was the driver behind the wealth of Salins-les-Bains. This has now been replaced by the spa baths attracting people from all over France coming to enjoy the unique benefits of the salt-loaded water rich in trace elements. However, Salins-les-Bains also has other features making it well worth stopping off on the Pasteur and the Gabelous Trail!

Look up and you will see a sky which is rainbow-coloured from the parachutes of the paragliders taking off from the neighbouring Mont Poupet (Poupet Mountain). Why not try your hand yourself?

Arbois

Star-spangled capital of gastronomy

This is the wine capital of Jura, a small town where life is good: the yellow-ochre stonework of the old village is the perfect setting for just relaxing on one of the terraces of one of its gastronomic restaurants. However, this, Louis Pasteur country, holds quite a few more little surprises!

When arriving in Arbois you are immediately struck by the uniform nature of its architecture and its gentle village pace; here, instead of major roads and prestigious monuments, you'll find a charming place with harmonious arcades, engaging districts where the vineyard cottages and the B&Bs stand side-by-side, quaint little romantic gardens and a never-ending supply of fresh water from the River Cuisance. The best way to discover Arbois is by walking- just taking a nice leisurely stroll up to Saint-Just, the magnificent church, or push open the front door of the family home of Louis Pasteur or pay a visit to the institut et le musée de la Vigne et du Vin (Wine Museum) where you can learn everything about this ancestral know-how...From the Château-Pécauld to the numerous wine cellars where you can taste the village wines, you are only a small step away from the vineyards or the Jura wine trail.

Do you want to journey up to the source of the the River Cuisance? Passing the village of Les Planches-Près-Arbois, you will reach the foot of the highest and most remote part of Jura – in this “world’s end” from where the Tufts waterfall gushes forth, you can penetrate to the very core of the earth in search of a breathtaking network of caves. Whether it is reminiscent of an art gallery or a cinematic landscape, this geological trip is pure poetry - an anthem to erosion.

Find out more... www.arbois.com

Make sure you stop off at one of the gastro-restaurants which are the pride of Arbois and, in particular, taste the gastronomic delights of Jean-Paul Jeunet, its two Michelin-star-rated chef. This little village is recognised as a “Site Remarquable du Goût” (Site of Outstanding Gastronomy) for the know-how of its culinary artisans. And you mustn't leave Pasteur's homeland without tasting the chocolates made by Edouard Hirsinger, winner of the prestigious title of “Meilleur Ouvrier de France” (Best Worker in France).

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Château-Chalon

Keeping watch over a dazzling vineyard

Château-Chalon is a veritable jewel in the crown of wine-growing. It towers over the Revermont valley like a sentinel, but is not simply the ‘guiding light’ of vineyards – it is the birthplace of the legendary Vin Jaune (Yellow Wine) and it is a village where legend is interwoven with history.

If the writer Bernard Clavel, who fell in love with the village the moment he set foot in it, can be inspired by Château-Chalon over the course of several years, then anybody else who comes here will not fail to be touched by it. Its impregnable location, together with all its quaint charm and warmth, give it that extra special something that elevates it into the very exclusive club of ‘les Cités Comtoises de Caractere (PCCC). A place of major importance in the wine-growing history of Jura, the name of Château-Chalon is synonymous with one of the best vintage wines in the world, a divine amber-coloured nectar – yes, you said it - Château-Chalon.

Find out more... www.tourisme-hauteseille.fr

Guardian of the vineyard, Château-Chalon is perched at the side of a cliff and has, for centuries, extended its watchful gaze to the borders of its remote neighbours. The landscape of this panoramic village is on a par with the other treasures in the region.

La reculée de Baume-les-Messieurs

The spectacular box-canyon

A reculée (box-canyon), four vantage points, a cave system, a waterfall and an imperial abbey. Is this just any old list? No it's not, it is in fact an actual list of what is on offer at Baume-les-Messieurs, one of the most spectacular places to visit in the whole of Jura.

One word and one word only describes Baume-les-Messieurs, a jewel and that is because it manages to squeeze into its few square kilometres, a myriad of magnificent marvels. Set in its 'box-canyon' of immense geological interest, Baume The Magnificent leads the tourist from one surprise to the next, from the breathtaking church tower of its imperial abbey to the mysterious waters of its underground lake. Then, to top it all, there is the charming tranquility of this village which enjoys the status of 'Plus Beau Village de France' (Most beautiful villages in France), so beautiful in fact that many painters and craftsmen have set up their studios here.

Did you know that it was the charm and beauty of this naturally majestic area that so inspired John Howe, the artistic director of 'Lord of the Rings'

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Lake Vouglans

The emerald giant

Prince of superlatives, the 35 kilometre-long Lake Vouglans is not only the third largest man-made lake in France. Its tree-lined banks plunge into a huge emerald stretch of water making it one of Jura's summer highlights for water sports enthusiasts.

This a fantastic place for enjoying yourself... From Pont-de-Poitte to Vouglans Dam France's largest artificial lake stretches over thirty-five kilometres. Nestling in a delightful tree-lined treasure trove, this huge fresh water snake is an absolute paradise for water sports enthusiasts with three ports and three beaches (La Mercantine, Surchauffant et Bellecin): swimming, chilling out, sailing or fishing? All aboard Le Louisiane for a magical cruise on Vouglans-le-géant... There are no bayous or crocodiles here, but there is outstanding scenery and a never-ending range of ways of enjoying yourself!

Find out more... www.juralacs.com

Would you be able to make out the top of a church tower from the bottom of a lake. Well, the 12th Century Carthusian monastery, the Chartreuse de Vaucluse is buried beneath the lake's water, much to the delight of divers.

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

The Hérisson Waterfalls and Lake Chalain

Dive into inviting water

The “Lake Trail” has its giants– Chalain and Vouglans. Between these two turquoise jewels there are another twenty wonderful deep blue « pearls ». From high up on the Four Lakes’ Viewpoint you can pick out the Eagle and the Hedgehog...

What about the Hedgehog? Although it will disappoint lovers of this charming little creature it wasn't hedgehogs that gave their name to the most spectacular waterfalls in Jura–“Hérisson” is thought to come from “Yrisson”, which means “sacred water”. Chalain, a location dear to the local populace is also very popular with holidaymakers: nestling in a delightful setting, the largest natural lake in Jura is also a paradise for water-based leisure pursuits. Featuring three specially-developed beaches, you can swim, sail, fish or just take it easy and relax. There are no concrete blocks here but two superb camp sites, ideally located between the lake and forests. As for the famous “Lagons de Chalain”, they’ve become THE biggest fun attraction. Welcome to the Domaine

Located just a stone's throw away from Pic de l'Aigle (Eagle's Peak) or the 4 Lakes Viewpoint is an unlikely landscape... made up of the four stunning stretches of inviting blue water Narlay, the two Maclu (the small and the large) of Ilay. Truly outstanding views that make you feel like “blending in with the landscape”, by setting off up a hiking path.

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

The Upper Coombs

Spacious Jura

An area that really stands out: perched on the “Roof of Jura” these high plateaux stretching over sixty kilometres provide far more than just their majestic landscapes: a wonderful blend of traditions and the unexpected will take your breath away.

! unexpected

Situated at an altitude of 1,100 metres, the Hautes Combes stretch out in front of you along with their spruce forests ... From one end of the year to another, this is the ideal place if you want to take in tranquil, silent scenery guaranteed to make you want to put on your hiking boots and set off in the pursuit of nature. This area full of tradition is well-known for its delicious Sepmoncel Blue Cheese and lovers of the unexpected will fall for the southern part of Haut-Jura: you might well come across reindeer and bison when rambling. Why not spend the night in a yourte, a tipi or a Lap kota!

Find out more... www.jura-hautes-combes.com

If you opt for a few nights in an unusual dwelling, such as a yurt, a hunting lodge, a teepee, or even a tree-house... you're certain to get a change of scenery!

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Saint-Claude

The Jura touch

Perched up high in the mountains, Saint-Claude enjoys a fully-deserved worldwide reputation as the home of tobacco pipe. The cradle of the “Jura touch”, Voltaire’s protégé matures its highlights with a thousand-year-old know-how.

Saint-Claude is an absolute must for people visiting Jura – it is not only the world capital of pipes with world-class craftsmanship but it has forged a reputation for wood turning and cutting diamonds and precious stones. Squeezed in at the bottom of its valley, the town has great appeal due to its dramatic backdrop and its highly original heritage- the old Cathedral of the diocese and the Abbey Museum, a brand new attraction for Modern Art lovers...

Find out more... www.ot-saint-claude.com

The Soufflacul Tradition just has to be discovered! Dating back to the Middle Ages, this character, adorning a white nightshirt and a long coloured shirt, sporting a nightcap and disguised as a wolf ... wanders through the streets of Saint-Claude to chase away the demons under ladies' skirts! During the day several floats including the traditional King's float roll through town along with brass bands, majorettes... When night falls a firework display is organised before the traditional burning of the King for a day.

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Upper Saine Valley at Foncine

A torrent and a thousand events!

Thanks to its recent inclusion amongst the prestigious “major Jura attractions”, the Upper Saine Valley has joined the ranks of the 2,700 protected national sites. This recognition for “the spectacular valley” was long overdue...

unexpected

Just seventeen kilometres long, the River Saine is nevertheless a captivating highlight on the local landscapes: gorges, waterfalls, chasms and splendid viewpoints. Its recent ranking awarded by the Ministry of Ecology was fully deserved. Today, the Upper Saine Valley is one of the most popular tourist attractions in Jura. But watch out! All the way along this sacred old river you might well see a white horse drinking or the Langouette fairy whizzing around!

Find out more... www.juramontsrivieres.fr

The superb La Billaude Waterfall is located very close to the Upper Saine Valley. Two consecutive falls stretch up 28 metres' high and spurt out from a narrow crack in the middle of the cliffs at the bottom of the Lemme valley.

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Nozeroy

Eternal Hill

In addition to its undeniable “stamp” (Ah, the yellow stone of Molpré!), The medieval city of Nozeroy has a little “I don’t know what it” that makes it irresistibly attractive. Its hill is also the starting point for a thousand and one excursions on this vast plateau, nestling between Mont-Noir and the Forêt de Joux...

But what makes the Nozeroy so attractive? The quiet strength of the town-centre, of course, this Little Town of Comtois Character, with the golden stone and the many heritage treasures... The vitality of an entire set, structured around a strong agricultural activity - production of milk and manufacture of the Comté... the dynamism, especially, of a whole catchment area, proud of its traditions and festive events: Go to Assaut des Remparts, a medieval festival like no other which revives every summer the splendour of the ancient city of Chalon!

Find out more... www.juramontsrivieres.fr

The collegiate church of Saint Antoine holds an unusual treasure: the altar frontals, (not visible) orphrey-embroidered chasubles in wheat straw and not in gold thread. This basic material was made noble by the dexterity of the small hands of nuns in the 17th century.

■ MUST-SEE PLACES

Les Rousses

The family ski resort made up of four villages

This is no ostentatious ski resort with tower blocks or upmarket shopping malls. It is situated right in the middle of the Regional Natural Park of the Upper-Jura and stretches out to the Les Rousses ski resort, the famous 'four-village resort' which has recently been granted the rating of '4-sapins' (4 spruce trees) from Nordique France.

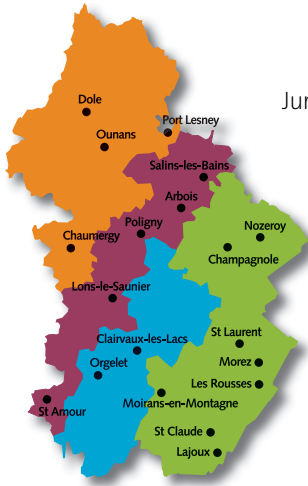

unexpected

In winter, all snow sports are possible whether it be 'border-jumping' on the fabulous ski resort that straddles the Franco-Swiss border, multi-level downhill skiing (going as fast and as straight as you can down the steep slope and not forgetting to plant your ski pole!), cross-country skiing or snow-shoeing, the toboggan or snow workshops. In summer, the sports-minded and families can explore the canyon on foot, bike, horse or on a gyropode (a fun-guaranteed motorised scooter) or they can try their hand at golf. At the Fort in Les Rousses, you can explore the Comté cheese ripening cellar or live out your commando-instincts at the assault courses or underground assault course. On the lake, hoist up the wide sail and navigate in a kayak or simply dip your toes into the fresh water. The mountains will be delighted to reveal their art of living and will help you appreciate this very welcoming atmosphere. The craftsmen, the museums of the boissellerie and lapidaire, the ripening cellars, the Paul-Emile Victor centre, the Vandel company (last manufacturer of cross-country skis in France) reveal their marvels and their know-how which makes for a good family outing.

Unbelievable... We remember the 14th of February 2010, when Jason Lamy-Chappuis, who spent his childhood in Bois d'Amont soared to the top in the Vancouver Winter Olympics. We pay homage to the son of the region and to all the generations of high-class athletes who have made the region of the Jura mountains so proud.

ONE AREA, FOUR LANDSCAPES

Jura - the name itself implies character, mystery - and indeed, visitors discover not one but several Juras, each one more breathtaking than the last. From the poetic ponds of Bresse to the snowy peaks of the Dole, Jura's wonders unfurl like Russian dolls: the magic of the Chau forest, Vignoble's good living, the gentle pace of the lake district and the "Low Mountains", the sumptuous Haut-Jura... Every step of the way, you will rave about another landscape, another spread of colour, another playground... And just when you think you have seen it all, the best is yet to be discovered: and it is all so unexpected!

Le Pays Dolois et Bresse Jurassienne [Between 200 and 400m ]

Hidden away in the Pays Dolois and the Bresse Jurassienne regions of the north lie bucolic plains, hedged farmlands, ponds, leafy forests and rivers. Visitors to the noble Dole, local art and history town, will discover the town's mysteries through forty-three listed buildings: the collegiate church, hotels, an ancient convent, the Municipal hotel and the historical town centre.

Le Pays Vignoble et Revermont [Between 200 and 500 m]

The Pays Vignoble and Revermont regions blossom in the heart of Jura. This area is bound to take you by surprise: its villages (well-trodden or tucked away), UNESCO heritage sites, tropical-looking waterfalls and sunny vineyards. And to satisfy all the senses, arrange a visit to a local wine cellar to taste the special regional 'vin jaune'.

Le Pays Lacs et Petite Montagne [Between 400 and 800 m]

Carry on via the Lake District and the Low Mountains. The first peaks appear. Water becomes a greater part of the landscape: rivers re-emerge, majestic waterfalls are dotted across nature's living wild. The Lakes, the quieter option, is the place to go for watersports or an invigorating walk from the marina to the beach.

Le Haut-Jura [Between 700 and 1720m]

Gentle mountain landscapes are what the Haut Jura and its regional nature reserve do best. It is a unique place defined by its conifer forests, valleys, naturally emerging lakes, mountain crests, and protected fauna - and its unique know-how. It is nature's own playground, the ideal spot for outdoors pursuits. And every season comes with an array of activities to try out.

The Serre Forest

The forest covers mountainous plains in the north-east of Dole: there is a rare occurrence of crystallin rock. This is the only example in Jura.

The Chaux Forest

The second largest broad-leaved forest in France. For centuries, communities have lived and worked among the trees. A wonderful forest, full of history: check out the stone columns which were erected in the 19th century. They were once used to guide the workers in the forest and are now an official heritage monument.

The Lower Doubs Valley

This stretches right from the Chaux Forest to Dole. The valley is popular for its beaches, gravel pits and canoe trips.

NATURE SITES

La Billaude Waterfall

Two consecutive falls totalling 28m in height gush out of a narrow crack in the middle of cliffs at the bottom of the River Lemme Valley.

Towards Syam
39300 Champagnole

Vulvoz Waterfall

Staggeringly powerful water that drives into a "slide" dug out in the rock.

39360 Vulvoz

Le Moulin Waterfall

Listed site nestling in the Tacon gorges.

39370 Les Bouchoux

Le Moulin du Saut Waterfall and the Source of the River Ain

The Serpentine forms a small lake on the site of the remains of a windmill, before plunging from a 15 metre ledge.

39250 Nozeroy

La Queue de Cheval

This waterfall, which plunges, in two stages, some sixty metres, is undoubtedly one of the finest in Upper Jura.

39200 St-Claude

La Langouette waterfalls and gorges

The water bubbles and produces superb waterfalls and whirlpools. There are giant pots and deep, narrow gorges.

39150 Les-Planches-En-Montagne

Flumen Gorges

This is a listed site considered as being natural heritage of national importance. The Waterfalls fall side by side in a dark and wild cirque.

39200 Villard-St-Sauveur

The source of the River Ain

Take advantage of the paths made available to you in order to discover the saut des Mailly, the source of the River Ain and the remains of the Saut windmill.

The Gendarme's Cap

This fold, shaped like a gendarme's cap is made up of a set of thin limestone layers, followed by clay layers in the middle of the cap. This cap is characteristic of the Upper Jura folded landscape.

39310 Septmoncel

Loulle Limestone Pavement

A limestone pavement is an unusual landscape to say the least. It is a geological surface formation in limestone rocks created by the trickling effect of rainwater that dissolves the rock: the stone seems to be torn to shreds.

39300 Loulle

L'Abîme Gorges

Located at the foot of Vaucluse Cirque, the Abîme is a violent torrent which grooves out narrow and spectacular gorges in the rocks. In some places, the stream bed is cut up by the erosion into "giant potholes".

Located between St-Claude and Longchaumois

l'Abîme Gorges

La Bienne Gorges

Since Longchaumois, Corbières viewpoint provides a superb view of the River Bienne Valley.

Located between Morez and Saint-Claude

La Combe d'Orvaz

(Coomb)

Listed site. Vast natural amphitheatre where two rocky fronts, the Orvaz Rocks and the Fauconnière Rock confront each other.

01130 Belleydoux

Les pertes de l'Ain

(Gorge)

Les pertes de l'Ain are a very narrow gorge in which the River Ain plunges from a height of twelve metres. The overflow of the water space gives rise to a splendid waterfall in a Horse-tail shape.

39300 Champagnole

The Source of the River Saine

Standing proudly next to the Bayard, a mountain covered with dry grazing land sparsely covered with walnut trees. The water coming from the River Saine have formed a ruz, a term specific to Jura describing a small valley forged over thousands of years, which looks like a funnel.

39460 Foncine-le-Haut

Upper Jura sound sites

A walk through places dominated by silence and echoes. You'll detect the sounds easily and feel the ambience of the different locations.

Upper Jura Regional Nature Park

145,580 preserved hectares, including 96 towns and villages in the Jura Mountains, between the River Ain and the Swiss Border. The Park conserves a mountainous area providing all of Jura's geological forms (coombs, transverse valleys, gorges), made up of highland with a rounded shape, dominated by the forest.

The Joux Forest

A forest located on the edge of Jura's second plateau. It is considered as one of the finest fir forests in France.

Massacre Forest

It covers several publicly-owned and private forests. The Massacre reaches its zenith at an altitude of 1,495 metres (Crêt Pela), making it the highest mountain in Jura.

Risoux Forest

It was an important place during the Second World War. Many Jewish people managed to escape being sent to the Concentration Camps between 1941 and 1944 thanks to this forest. There is a wide range of things to do including rambling, mountain biking and cross-country skiing.

Lake Lamoura

The highest lake in Jura is located at an altitude of 1,156 metres. The lake is bordered by a peat bog on one of its sides accessible thanks to a specially-developed theme-based path.

39310 Lamoura

Lake Antre

Located above the village of Villards-d'Héria and surrounded by forests, the Lake nestles at the foot of the Antre Rock. From the summit, you can enjoy views of the lake and Jura's mountains.

39260 Villards-d'Héria

The Abbey Lake

This is one of the largest lakes in Jura measuring 90 hectares. There is a small beach for swimming in summer.

39150 Grande Rivière

Etival Lakes

Situated in the heart of the forest in very peaceful surroundings. There are three lakes: the "Small Lake", the "Large Lake" and Lake Fauge, with abundant flora and fauna characteristic of wet environments. A nearby path enables you to get splendid views of the lakes and village.

39130 Etival

St. Anne Cave and the Ermitage Viewpoint

Historical anecdote: the water from this cave was considered capable of miracles and Louis XI, passing through St. Claude, visited it and drank the water. It is said that it cured his eye problems.

The Regional Natural Park of Haut-Jura

The Regional Park of Haut-Jura was founded in 1986. It was born out of a desire to manage and preserve its natural environment, developing tourism, culture, developing its expertise and assets, as well as growing the area's economy. It brings together 122 towns and villages from the Jura Mountains, in Ain, Jura and Doubs on the Swiss border over 178,000 hectares. Conquer the surrounding nature; its gorgeous open landscapes hanging on the horizon, its forests and their diversity... A multitude of recreational activities are on offer: family resorts, various museums, unusual events... These people, workers, solid and daring have developed know-how combining ancient traditions with an inventiveness that looks to the future.

Exhibition at the Maison du Parc in Lajoux

In the program, the permanent exhibition "Upper Jura: living Earth" helps visitors discover the Upper Jura through this amazing exhibition. Come to touch, handle, hear...and understand this rich and fragile land. Temporary exhibitions, an auditory spectacle and a safe-keeping place to complete the visit...

The good ideas of the Park

Ligne des Hirondelles (the swallow line): a train journey linking Dole and Saint-Claude

The great crossing of Jura: six itineraries dedicated to hiking, mountain biking, cycling, equestrian, Nordic skiing and snowshoeing through the Haut-Jura.

County roads: the milk producers, cheese makers, refiners and all the passions of Jura welcome you...

Mappemonde: four hiking trails to explore the natural, cultural heritage of Upper-Jura thanks to GPS.

From the virtual to the natural: a GPS trail (guided audio and video) to discover know-how, thematic routes, museums and natural sites of the NRP of Upper-Jura.

The road to expertise: craft workshops, museums and theme houses linked to the culture of Upper-Jura are brought together in this network.

Workshop skills: the museum of Jura crafts offering creative courses.

Spaces and time of snow: this network to discover the snow through the site: Ski Vandel, Nordic skiing, ecomuseum, ski jump stadium.

The Great Saltworks at Salins-les-Bains

The Great Saltworks at Salins-les-Bains A listed UNESCO World Heritage site

For over a thousand years the town of Salins-les-Bains has succeeded in taking advantage of one of nature's gifts: salt. From the Middle Ages the saltworks employed about 800 people right up until the end of the 18th century, where the brine from Salins was transferred via a brine pipeline to the Royal Saltworks at Arc-et-Senans. The saltwork's underground tunnels reveal vaults dating back to the medieval period, housing a complex hydraulic mechanism. A new pathway allows you to visit the salt shop and explore numerous subjects through texts, images and sensory exhibits. As evidence of the thriving period of White Gold, this part allows us to exhibit the full industrial site. The saltworks are a listed monument and have been awarded a heritage prize for the by the Ministry of Culture. Since 2009 the saltworks have been included on UNESCO's World Heritage site list as an extension of the Royal Saltworks at Arc-et-Senans. One hour guided tour (Underground temperature: 12°C – 46 steps to reach the tunnels).

16 kms away in Doubs: The Royal Saltworks

There is a powerful and striking atmosphere inside the Royal Saltworks at Arc-et-Senans, built in 1775; the people who enter will definitely not be left indifferent. The factory is an example of exceptional architecture, which has been listed since 1982 as a UNESCO World Heritage site, and was used for salt production, comprising the production and manufacture sites and lodgings for the workers; it is a modern city project located in the countryside. Find out more by visiting the cultural areas: "The history of salt", "Memories of the site", and the Musée Ledoux (Ledoux Museum). The garden festival will take place from June to October 2011, on the subject of the 18th century.

CHÂTEAUX

Medieval châteaux, Palladian villa, this rich heritage resonates in the ears of visitors to the epic story of the Jura.

Discover:

- The remains the château of Chevreux
  - The château of Arlay
  - The château of Syam
  - The fortified château of Pin
  - The remains of the château of Présilly
  - The château of Rosay
  - The ruins of the château of Oliferne
  - The fortified château of Frontenay
- And many more...

SACRED ARTS

From the fifth century, the Jura received its first religious communities with St Romain and Lupicin, St. Claude. At the end of the ninth century, the Abbot Bernon founded the Abbey St Pierre a Gigny. It will then create with the Brothers of Baume-les-Messieurs, the famous Abbey of Cluny. As for the Cathedral of St. Claude, it has long been the headquarters of the Episcopal Diocese of Jura. Churches, abbeys, collegiate and cathedral are all witnesses to the rich Christian heritage of Jura.

You'll find all the practical information to discover this heritage in pages 20, 30, 31, 42 and 52.

THE UNEXPECTED JURA...

Alésia, in the Jura?

According to Julius Caesar's "The Gallic Wars", there appears to be striking similarities between the descriptions and the topography of the site at Chau-des-Crotenay and its surroundings. The discovery of objects dating to this period leads us to imagine that this village could be Alesia.

The lake cities of Chalain and Clairvaux

The lake cities of Chalain and Clairvaux-les-Lacs have just been listed at the World Heritage of Humanity by the UNESCO since Tuesday, June 28, 2011.

The lake-dwelling (lake) sites of Chalain and Clairvaux have been chosen with 109 other sites in six countries of the Alps (Switzerland, Germany, France, Italy, Slovenia and Austria) as part of a joined "serial" application presented by Switzerland.

To discover the history of these two sites, the exhibition "6000 years ago, lake villages in Chalain and Clairvaux" in the hall of Clairvaux may be visited in summer.

Turning

Thanks to their well-developed ability to adapt, the citizens of Jura have gone through the centuries developing a unique tapestry of craftsmanship. They turn wood, make pipes, master the secrets of watch-making and cutting fine stones and were the first to make spectacles and have proven their expertise in the field of making wooden days. They have experimented with synthetic materials, then plastics and are still very much at the cutting-edge of new technology.

Turning

Wood turning provided a whole farming population with its sustenance in the winters in the 16th century. The production of devotional objects, a speciality until the Revolution, gave way to more common items. In the 19th century, the craft industry became more modern and focused in particular on wooden toys, snuffboxes and pipes, and later on manufacturing spare parts for the car industry and luxury products.

The cellars of the Juraflore cheese dairy in the Fort des Rousses

In Jura, when we want everyone to agree, we sit down for a meal when we want everybody to agree with each other. From our leading chefs to those of us who are more modest cooks, we all know how appealing our delicious ingredients are. The cheese tray is our secret weapon! Comté, Morbier and Bleu de Gex all treat our taste buds through their distinctive flavours, in a delicious atmosphere of shared delights.

Comté, the king of the Jura Mountains

The most important cheese Appellation d'Origine Contrôlée (AOC) in France, Comté is produced by small-scale producers in "fruitières" (cheese dairies) using milk sourced from over 3,000 farms. Smooth and fruity, it has the aroma and taste of walnuts. As the Comté Capital, it is fitting that Poligny is home to the centre dedicated to it:

Morbier, full of character

Our small-scale farmers, not being able to deliver milk to the cheese dairies because of bad weather, had the commendable idea of adding the evening's milk to the morning's, protected by a layer of ash: thus the delicious AOC cheese saw the light of day in 1875 in Morbier, a village in Upper Jura.

Le Bleu de Gex (or bleu du Haut-Jura), the connaisseurs' cheese

The Bleu de Gex, also an AOC, is the result of a very small-scale farming and traditional production. Ivory and blue in colour, its mild character and delicate flavour ensure it is used as a basis for numerous recipes including pies and the famous Jura raclette.

Based on this delicious range of AOC produce, many other Jura delicacies can delight the taste buds of connoisseurs. Floral honey, snails, small-scale brewery beer, gingerbread and biscuits de gaude (made with roasted corn flour), salted caramel from Salins, small-scale produced oil, mountain cold pork meat, delicious chocolate made by Edouard Hirsinger, “Meilleur Ouvrier de France” (Best Worker in France) or by the Pelen company. The natural Jura environment is the source of a wide variety of delicious produce, the desire to share, as well as the innovative and skilled population, all combine to make Jura a haven for gourmets. The fruitières (cheese dairies) first appeared in Jura in 1260 and have remained the prestigious symbol of human solidarity associated with this area.

The Michelin star chefs

Passion and traditions, combined with new ideas and unique produce, and a sublime association between food and wine, as well as the blend of the produce from Jura and ingredients from far-off countries... these are the secrets behind the Jura cuisine.

OUR MOST SURPRISING NATURAL SITES

The gorges of Abîme

Box canyons

A reculée (box-canyon) is a geographical term specific to Jura. This amazing topography refers to a deep entaille in the Jura limestone plateau thus forming a characteristic valley. The box-canyon is finished off by a cirque surrounded by imposing cliffs. These box-canyons are veritable natural treasure-troves: caves, fauna, heritage...

The finest box-canyons can be found

at Baume-les-Messieurs, Les Planches-près-d'Arbois, Gizia and la Frasnée.

Waterfalls

The enticing waterfalls in Jura provide invigorating hikes with a real touch of zest, in the heart of countryside accessible to everyone.

The most beautiful waterfalls to be discovered:

The tufa waterfalls at Baume-les-Messieurs and Les Planches-Près-d'Arbois, the Hérisson waterfalls towards Doucier, the gorges and waterfalls of la Langouette (Upper Saine Valley) at Les Planches-en-Montagne, the gorges at l'Abîme, Flumen and La Queue de Cheval (Horsetail) towards St-Claude, the waterfall of la Billaude, at Chaux-des-Crotenay, le saut des Maillis at the Serpentine, Vulvoz waterfall, Moulin du Saut waterfall and the source of the River Ain at Nozeroy

Caves

There are almost 2,300 caves and gouffres in Jura. The following have been worked on to enable visits: The Caves of Baume-les-Messieurs, Les Moidons and Les Planches-près-d'Arbois

Find out more about the times for visiting and prices in the Vignoble (Vineyards) et Revermontin section

Lakes

Our lakes, with their tropical feel, have fresh clear water, in the middle of breathtaking landscapes: Chalain, Bonlieu, Etival, Vouglans, Clairvaux, Les Mortes, l'Abbaye, Antre, Lamoura, des Rousses and the 4 lacs - Narlay, Ilay, Petit Maclu and Grand Maclu.

Jura Bresse man-made lakes

The Bresse man-made lakes have been created and used by man since the Middle Ages. Left dry or filled with water in turn, the artificial lakes and their ecosystem change with the seasons and breathe life into the landscape.

Lapiaz

The trickling rainwater erodes the Jura rock and forges an unusual landscape, called lapiaz. The two finest lapiazs to be discovered are Loulle and Les Malrochers in the Besain wood.

Forests

Almost half of the area of Jura is covered by trees, from broad-leaved trees on the flat land to the fir and spruce trees in the mountains. The largest forests in Jura are: Chaux Forest, Risoux Forest, La Serre Forest, and Mas-sacre Forest.

Peat bogs

The fragile ecosystem of these humid areas is home to moss, and small carnivorous plants. The most attractive peat bogs in Jura are those in Prénovel, Lamoura, Les Rousses and Mignovillard-Frasne.

Other geological curiosities

The Gendarme's Hat: This series of thin limestone layer sis characteristic of the folded high grounds of Upper Jura.

Les pertes de l'Ain: Very narrow gorge into which the River Ain flows before reappearing in the form of a waterfall.

Les sources de l'Ain (Springs): A superb location for walking and relaxation in the heart of the flourishing countryside.

Source de la Saine: The River Saine springs has its source in a huge limestone cirque.

The Great Jura Trail (or GTJ)

The Great Jura Trail runs through the Jura Mountains from Mandeuire in Doubs to Culoz in Ain. It completely crosses the Upper-Jura regional nature reserve and also offers an excursion into neighbouring Switzerland. The full distance of the route is 400 km. There are also several variants.

The GTJ on foot is an officially recognised Grande Randonnée footpath (GR® and GRP®). It is passable from May to October and is accessible to anybody in good physical condition.

The GTJ by mountain bike:

Over a signposted and safe 380 km, you can do all of the Jura by mountain bike or just a section. The North part is athletic but the South part offers a more easy-going route. It is passable from May to October (depending on snow cover).

THE MOUNTAIN BIKE MAP

GUIDE OF THE GTJ: 25 descriptive index cards of the route and a practical booklet, to organise your trip over the GTJ.

PRICE: 14,50 € available from all good bookshops and from the GTJ Association.

The GTJ by bicycle: The route totals 360 km between Montbéliard (Doubs) in the North and Culoz (Ain) in the South, passing through the Jura. It also offers variations which will lead you to cross over a pass or discover a little curiosity of the Jura Mountains.

Signs have progressively been put up indicating North/South.

The GTJ by snowshoe and cross-country skis: Two routes unique to France which allow you to discover the Jura Mountains in winter. They cover 120 and 175 km respectively and are passable on snowshoe or Nordic skis.

The GTJ by horse trekking:

This route is currently still under preparation and being signposted.

GOLF

Jura can offer golfers everything they could possibly ask for – mountains, vineyards, lakes, waterfalls and rivers; in other words all the different landscapes and ingredients that make up superb golfing experiences. This golfing area is perhaps surprising for some thanks to its interesting variety of courses (with very varied levels of difficulty), from flat courses to mountain-based ones.

Jura golf courses

CLIMBING, CANONYING, VIA FERRATA AND POTHOLING

Blessed with a very rich geological formation, Jura is absolutely ideal for climbers. The variety of potholing, canyoning and climbing sites ensure there is something for every enthusiast. From climbing fans to families looking for testing hikes, everybody will find what they are looking for.

Roche au Dade via ferrata in Morez

It overhangs the town of Morez to the great pleasure of those of you who thrive on thrills. The two-hour route is made up of Tibetan bridges, Nepalese bridges and rocks. Obligatory equipment: can be hired.

The site is closed during winter.

Climbing

Thirty natural sites for climbing are listed, including three especially interesting located at Bellefontaine (Les 3 commères), Le Becque Larivoire, Mirebel.

Water hiking

This is the little brother of canyoning. Easier, less technical and less physically demanding, it can be done by everybody, even children, if they know how to swim and if they are not afraid of water or heights. Water hiking enables you to enjoy a safe thrilling experience: ideal for families!

Canyoning

Jura has a wide choice of outstanding sites, both accessible (short walks to the sites), but also rich in options (abseiling, jumping, scrambling).

Our two favourite sites:

Grosdar Waterfalls:

Located in Saint Claude, alongside the River Bienne, this site is made up of a large number of small falls and basins. Going down is pure fun and the setting is truly wonderful and you finish with a magnificent stretch of abseiling.

Coiserette Canyon:

Located near Saint Claude, on the River Bienne, this magnificent canyon, deep and narrow, provides a very aquatic experience in the heart of the eroded rocks and whirlpools.

Tasting Jura

TAKE FULL ADVANTAGE OF JURA

Is it the reputation of the wines or the delightful landscapes that attract travellers to our vineyards? In reality, this fine marl and the resulting wine are closely linked; those people who work in the tourist industry like wine-growers cordially invite all wine lovers to discover the secrets of this delicate blend obtained between a love of the land and wine-growing traditions.

Générosité d'un vignoble purement AOC

The Jura Wines, sourced from five grape varieties, Chardonnay and Savagnin for white wine and Trousseau, Poulsard and Pinot noir for the red, boast six AOCs: 4 geographical AOCs (Côte du Jura, Arbois, Etoile and Château-Chalon) and 2 AOC products (Crémant du Jura and Macvin).

Come and discover a rich range of white, red and rosé wines, alongside other nectar with strong character such as the famous Vin Jaune, le vin de paille liqueux, les marcs et autres fines, which make up the widest range that a wine-producing area can offer.

The Jura Wine Tourist Route

It was elected European Tourist Destination of Excellence in 2008 (EDEN) and Prix National de l'oenotourisme (National Wine Tourism Prize) in 2009. All along this trail, people working on the land put their heart and energy into sharing their real riches. The wine-makers, of course, magicians of aromas, who ensure the success of the much-awaited Percée du Vin Jaune (annual celebration of the new "Vin Jaune"[Yellow Wine]), as well as master cheesemakers in their dairies, chefs in love with flavours, enthusiastic hotel staff, inspired artists...All of them create emotions and are driven by the same desire; encapsulating the harmony of an exceptional wine-growing area.

Way of life dictated by the vineyards

Numerous events dictate life in Jura every year. Our most famous wine-making event, la Percée du Vin Jaune, brings together tens of thousands of people! It is a way of combining wine with the way of life in the area in a friendly atmosphere.

What wine brings to the table

Outstanding gourmet restaurants go hand in hand with the discovery of Jura Wines, for a tour d'horizon of the area's culinary specialities. In the land of the AOCs, chefs whose work has been acknowledged by the awarding of stars and renowned restaurant managers conjure up a wide range of surprises with unexpected flavours and superb food/wine combinations.

Thirst for knowledge

Your journey in the wake of the Jura Wines will reveal a part of our heritage to us...Take advantage of it to develop your knowledge by visiting the Grande Saline (Great Saltworks) de Salins-les-Bains, included in the Unesco heritage list, the crypt of Saint-Lothain or the Comté cheese dairies! In terms of sport and nature it is also the opportunity to get some fresh air in a hot-air balloon, walk alongside the River Loue arm in arm with your beloved, try your hand out at golf or enjoy a picnic in the vineyards to the sound of jazz.

■ WINTER ACTIVITIES IN THE HEART OF THE JURA MOUNTAINS

Nordic skiing

FIRST SNOW SPORTS AT RAIDS TRAPPER

The changing nature shapes man's activities in our inviting yet wild mountains. In winter, the resorts and villages attract lovers of thrilling sensations to indulge in winter sports! Thanks to the variety of the landscapes and the different types of know-how, all the activities are within easy reach, from relaxing walks through to the most dynamic of sports..

The paradise of Nordic skiing

Renowned for being Europe's largest Nordic skiing area, the 25 snow/nature villages and the 1,000 kilometres of specially-developed pistes are like sheer Heaven to Nordic ski and snowshoeing lovers, set against truly outstanding landscapes and spruce forests.

This sporting area has seen several generations of high-level athletes who have made our region proud, in particular Jason Lamy-Chappuis who shone in the Vancouver 2010 Olympics.

Snowshoe family

Winter activities

Downhill skiing

Most of the Jura Snow/Nature Villages are equipped with ski-lifts for downhill skiing. The Upper Jura downhill slopes are ideal for secure family skiing in the middle of the spruce trees.

Families setting their own pace

The resorts invite visitors to discover the way of life in the mountains. They are an ideal way of introducing young children to all sorts of activities each one more surprising than the last, either through school holidays or with parents. Outings with huskies, skating, sailing on ice, Telemark or snow Gyropodes- everything is in place for holidays full of surprises experienced at the pace you want. Numerous villages also have areas set aside especially for sled-riding, to slide along in completely safety on delimited pistes.

Thrilling times

The more daring could try their hand at surprising sports such as skijoring, combining skiing and carriage driving, kite-surf or snow tubing, ideal both for beginners and those with experience alike. For others, thrills are linked with high adventure! They could for example cover the mountains by galloping or set off in Jack London's footsteps with huskies.

Curiosities and complete change of scenery!

Fully-equipped or novel types of accommodation will help you get away from it all. From hotels tot trappers' camps, from gites to refuges, teepees, horse-drawn caravans or yurts, our range of «roofs» provide families or groups of friends with accommodation for unforgettable nights or just peaceful relaxation. The unbridled landscapes and nomadic homse combine the feelinf of a complete change from your everyday life and comfort under the stars above our montains.

5 MAJOR SKIING AREAS

Les Rousses Upper-Jura Resort Ski Area

Come and discover the delightful Upper Jura villages: on the Swiss border, Les Rousses skiing resort (made up of four villages: les Rousses, Lamoura, Prémaman and Bois d'Amont). Ideal for families, the Les Rousses skiing resort is, above all, an unrivalled location for fun in the heart of unspoilt countryside. Downhill skiing (five slopes, thirty-eight ski lifts including five chair lifts), 220 km of Nordic skiing slopes (one of the finest areas in France), snowshoeing routes, huskies, luge, biathlon, kite-surf, ski jöering, curling and ice-skating...

Morbier, Bellefontaine and Longchaumois skiing area

Located just a few kilometres from Les Rousses Skiing Resort, discover Morbier, Bellefontaine and Longchaumois, and taste the pleasures and the authenticity of the village resorts. All types of board sports are possible here: Nordic or downhill skiing, luge, walking in the snow or snowshoeing; all types of open air leisure pursuits before tucking into a Jura fondue! The local people will help you discover the coombs, undergrowth, spruce forests and crests and will show you a thousand and one ways of having fun in winter.

Jura Monts Rivières

Haute-Joux Skiing Area Foncine Skiing Area

Don't look for large resorts in Jura Monts Rivières, - everything is modestly sized: the mountains, villages, relationships between people...

Between Haute-Joux and Mont-Noir, the landscape doesn't change a great deal: forests and coombs, gently undulating. No "production line" welcome: hospitality is a tradition. And no unsightly tower blocks either; just gites or chalets where you can settle in at leisure, with the highly pleasant feeling of belonging to the area. Everything is in place in terms of facilities (Nordic skiing, snowshoeing, luge, downhill slopes...).

Just put your gear on and set off: people come here for the snow, not to queue up for hours on end! Have you heard of Nordic food, Nordic territory, Nordic spirit, Nordic passion...? We haven't misled you. You'll quickly appreciate what makes our mountains special, that "little something else" that provide them with their excellent quality of life. This land is ours but we extend you a very warm welcome.

Grandvaux Skiing Area Grandvaux is quite simply Nordic!!

Located in the Upper Jura Regional Nature Park, between the Hérisson Waterfalls and the Les Rousses resort, discover the Grandvaux plateau, a Nordic region made up of five skiing areas.

You're guaranteed of enjoying a great holiday in this truly unique, multi-faceted region with its fabulous landscapes and a vast range of things to do. Skiing, snowshoeing, sledding... set off into the snow in these preserved wide-open areas with their pleasant hills and mountains where you'll find a hamlet here or there as well as frozen lakes, forests and viewpoints. Children and adults alike will have a great time on the safe, packed-down luge pistes. Your guided outings will let you discover the special features of this beautiful region... After a busy day's sport, saunas, steam rooms and Jacuzzis abound to help you relax and spoil yourself unless you'd rather have a game of nine-pin bowling before tucking into a delicious fondue. Our high-quality accommodation and delicious local gastronomy will ensure you have a great time!

Upper-Jura Saint-Claude Skiing Area

Site des Hautes-Combes (Upper Coombs Site)

Located at an altitude of over 1,100m, right in the middle of the Regional Nature Park, the silence and tranquillity is tangible. These quaint villages embody the authentic touch and liveliness.

Vast spruce forests reach up to the heavens and sometimes touch the spellbinding natural cirques. Men are humble. They have learned to let time do its work, and let nature be, as epitomised by the mushers who have chosen to make their home in these mountains, both soothing and wild at the same time. In our area the major cheese is the Bleu de Gex. In order to provide protection from the rain and the westerly wind, the houses are covered by spruce wood "tiles" locally referred to as "tavail-lons" giving them a touch of class. Outstanding views await you from the surrounding mountains. Cross-country skiing, huskies, downhill skiing, walking on the snow... There's no end of things to do here – you're be spoilt for choice...

► TOURISM AND DISABILITY

The tourist sites displaying the national “Tourisme et Handicaps” (Tourism and Disabilities) sign ensure disabled people with reliable, descriptive and objective information concerning accessibility, taking into account all types of disability. The labelling system is based on four types of disability: motor, sight, hearing and mental. The “Tourisme et Handicaps” (Tourism and Disabilities) label is awarded after the location has been analysed by the assessors. Their assessment is based on a detailed table drafted using a national frame of reference. The « Tourisme et Handicaps » organisation can award accreditation for one, two, three or four disabilities.

Many service providers are committed to welcoming disabled people, but cannot obtain the Tourism & Disability seal of approval. They have tailored their business in order to provide a partially accessible service and require help. These sites have been visited. However, it is essential to contact service providers before visiting in order to get further details.
